FAQs About The Workshop

We highly recommend that you purchase travel insurance to cover the cost of your trip and workshop.

What's the closest airport?

The closest airport is Florida Keys Marathon Airport (MTH), which serves private and charter aircraft. Miami International Airport (MIA) and Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood International Airport (FLL) are the nearest commercial airports, each approximately a 2-hour drive from Marathon via the Overseas Highway. We recommend keysshuttle.com as they can transport from any of the airports listed, but you are welcome to book whatever service you prefer. Students may wish to coordinate arrival times and share the cost of a shuttle together The resort charges a $15/night fee for parking if you are considering renting a car.

What should I bring?

You will need to bring your own brushes, pencils, paper, palette, paints, portable easel and stool. For the complete list, visit EricWiegardt.com under "Workshops."

Will there be a lot of walking?

We will be doing some walking. You will be carrying your own equipment. Please pack only what you can carry.

ISLAND LUXURY IN MARATHON, FLORIDA

The Florida Keys—a sun-drenched chain of islands curving into luminous turquoise waters—offer watercolor artists an extraordinary palette. Marathon sits at the heart of the Keys, where dramatic skies meet the Atlantic and tropical light dances across water and mangrove. Your home base is the magnificent Isla Bella Beach Resort, a secluded island retreat surrounded on three sides by ocean, where pristine white-sand beaches, a legendary freeform pool, and swaying palms create an ever-changing plein air studio unlike any workshop location Eric has offered before.

Nestled on a private island accessible only by causeway, Isla Bella is Marathon's most exclusive oceanfront destination. All rooms feature private balconies overlooking the Atlantic—every morning begins with a watercolor-worthy view, and painting subjects are steps from your door.
